

The Lighthouse Keeper

Every evening the keeper climbed the spiral stairs to light the great lamp. The beam swept across the dark water.